1 DRINK = 12 oz. beer, 5 oz. wine, or 1.5 oz. shot of alcohol

■ 0 - .05: No Hangover Expected- Designate a sober driver.

■ .051 - .07: Driving While Impaired (DWAI)- You're buzzed! In Colorado, drivers are presumed to be impaired and will be arrested above .05%

■ .08 + up: Driving While Under the Influence (DUI): Drivers are presumed to be under the influence and will be arrested. The driver's license is immediately confiscated and revoked for 9 months to 3 years.

NOTE: The blood alcohol content (BAC) chart contained above is only a guide and not sufficiently accurate to be considered legal advice. The figures are averages. Individuals may vary in their personal alcohol tolerance. Food in stomach slows the rate of alcohol absorption. Medication, health and psychological conditions are also influencing factors. Refusal to take BAC test results in one year revocation of driver's license, Level II treatment and a two-year interlock.
